

Although I am not an expert in the broadcast telecommunications field, the information I have seen leads me to believe that a loosening of the regulations on Broadcast Ownership would not be in the public interest. The recent agglomeration of outlets has had a significant effect on the television landscape, and a massive effect on the radio landscape. I hope that my opinion, simple and crude though it is, may be added to the other information the commission has, and a thoughtful, deliberate conclusion reached, with the highest possible priority given to the public interest.

Thank you,
-Ed Bernstein